FOUNDERS DAY 84

Founders day weekend started out with an Alumni dinner dance Saturday night., Support for Langston University was apparent everywhere., Sunday the Board of Directors of the L. U. Development Foundation met to give added support to our mission. With all these friends to support us we face the future with hope and confidence.

Old friends and new were appreciative and supportive. They asked questions, gave pep talks, and asked what they could do to help.

Our National Alumni President gave leadership with grace, dignity, and most of all spirited commitment.

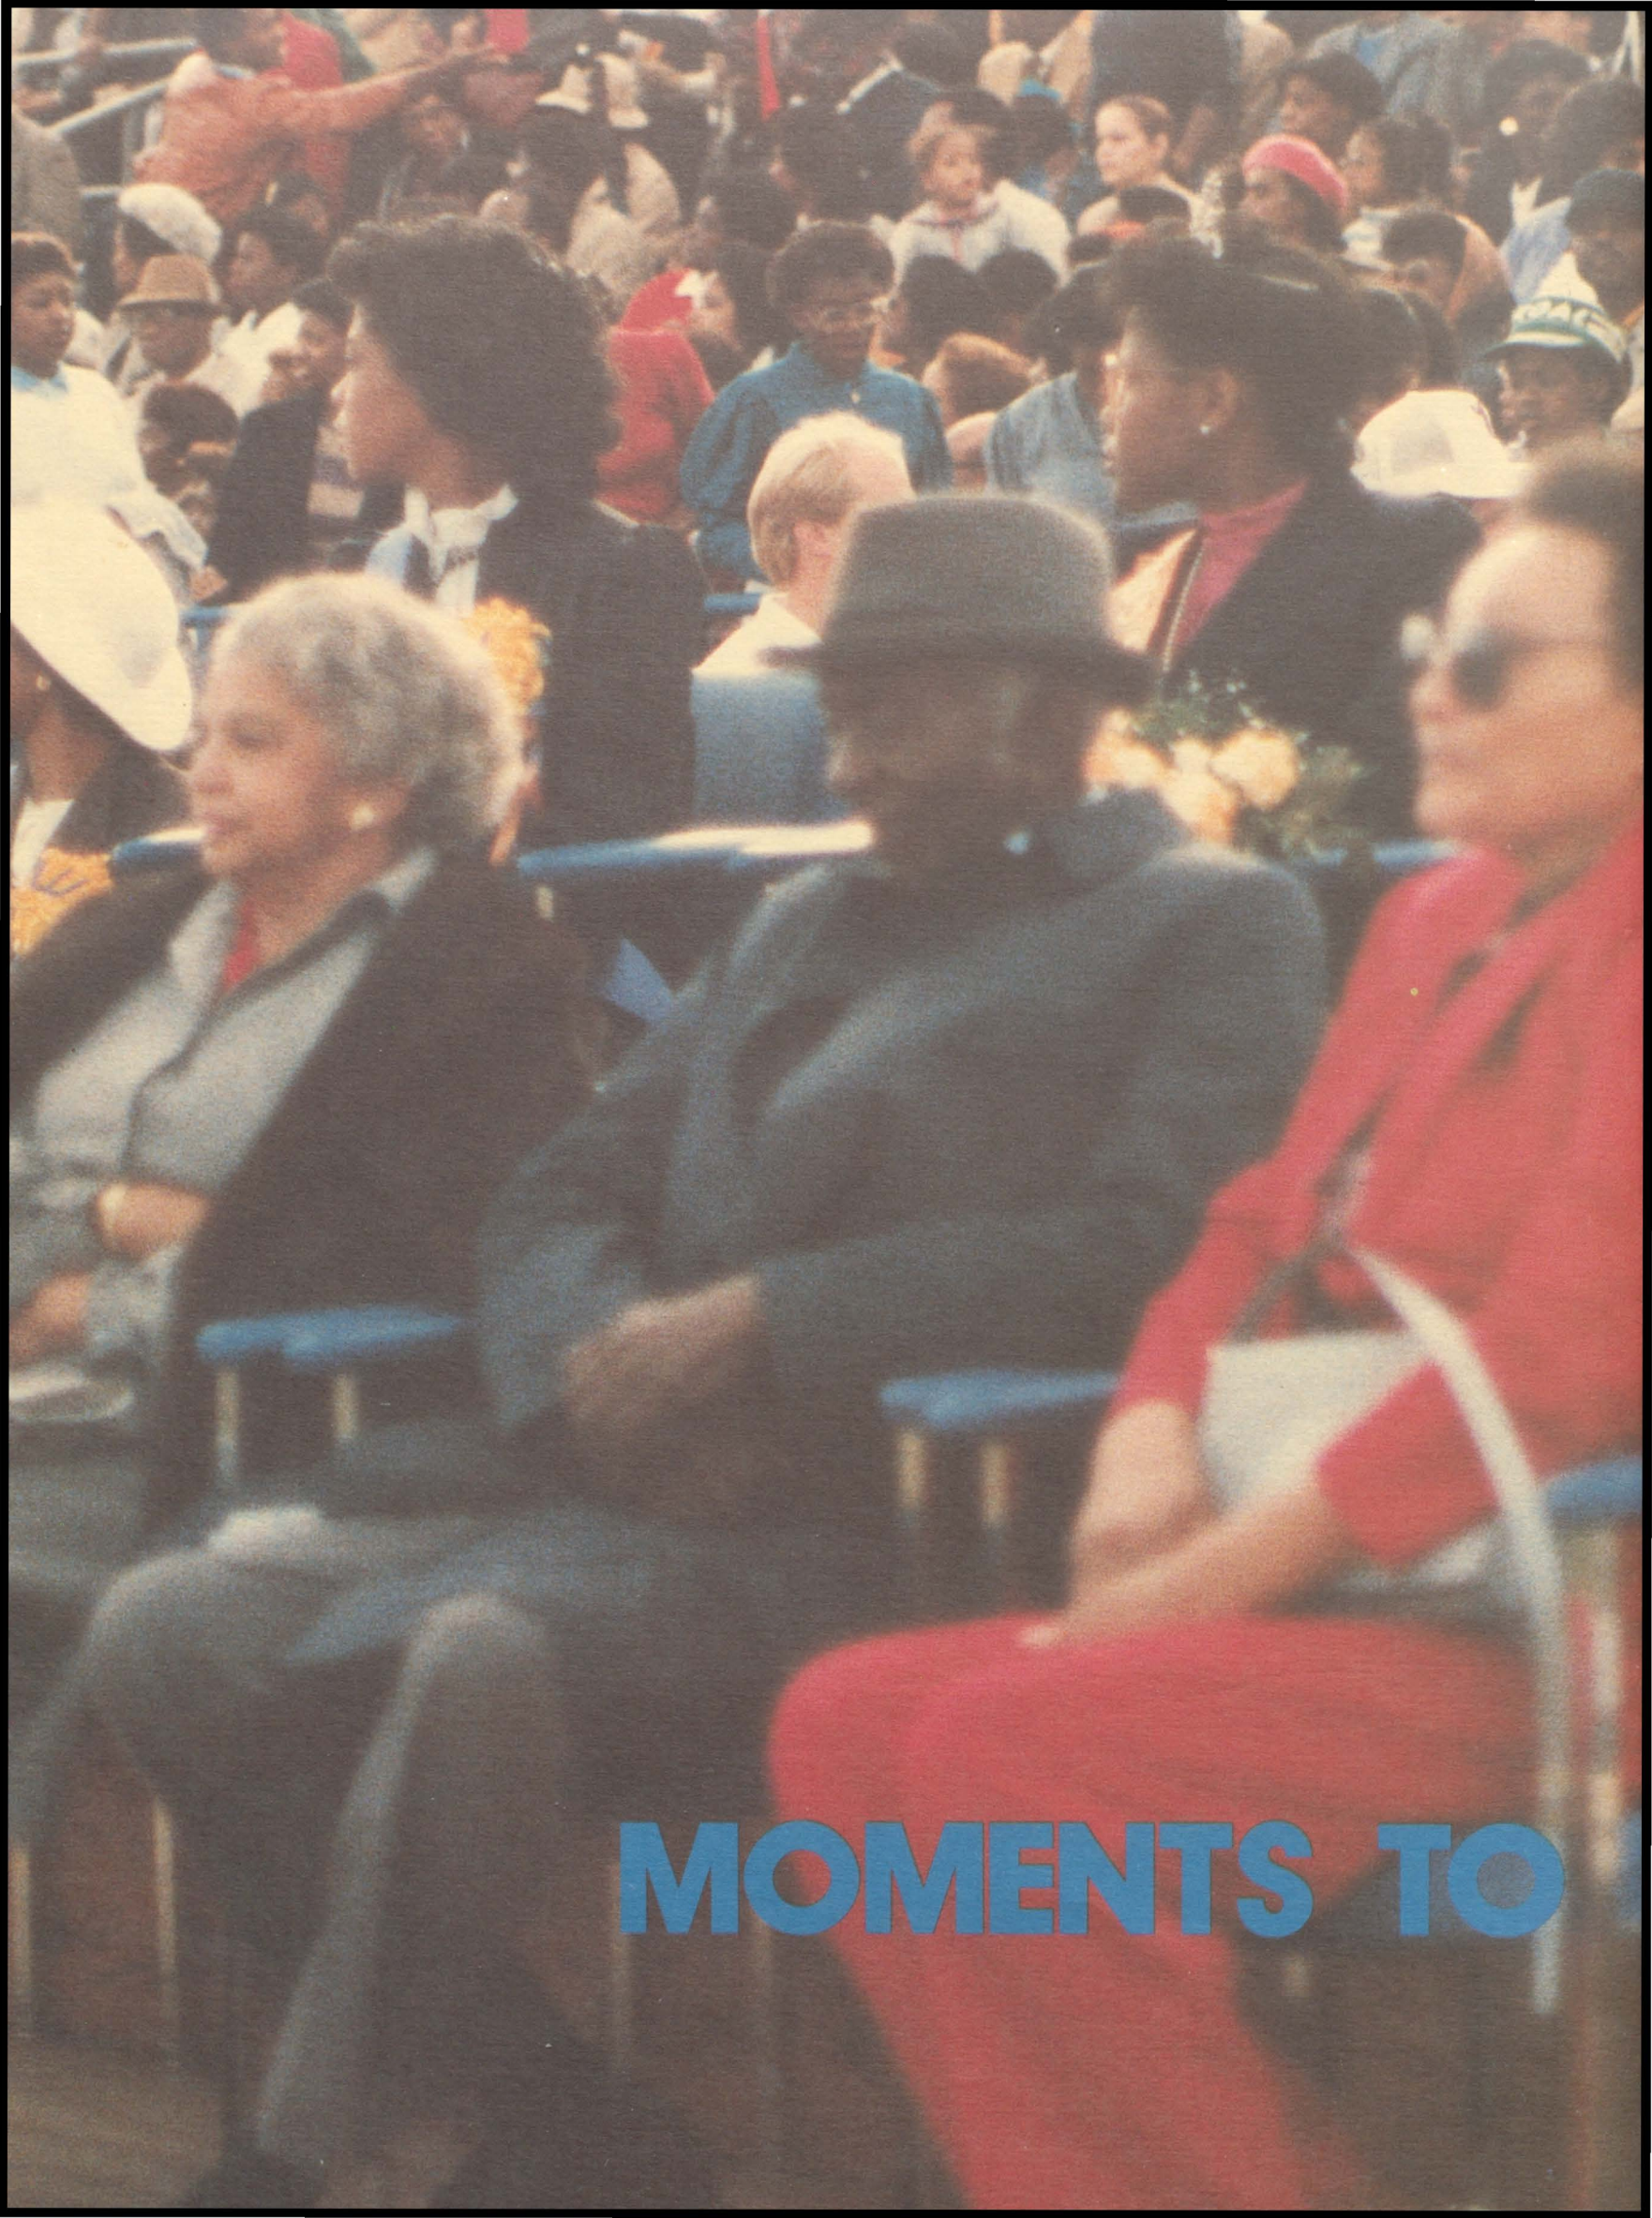

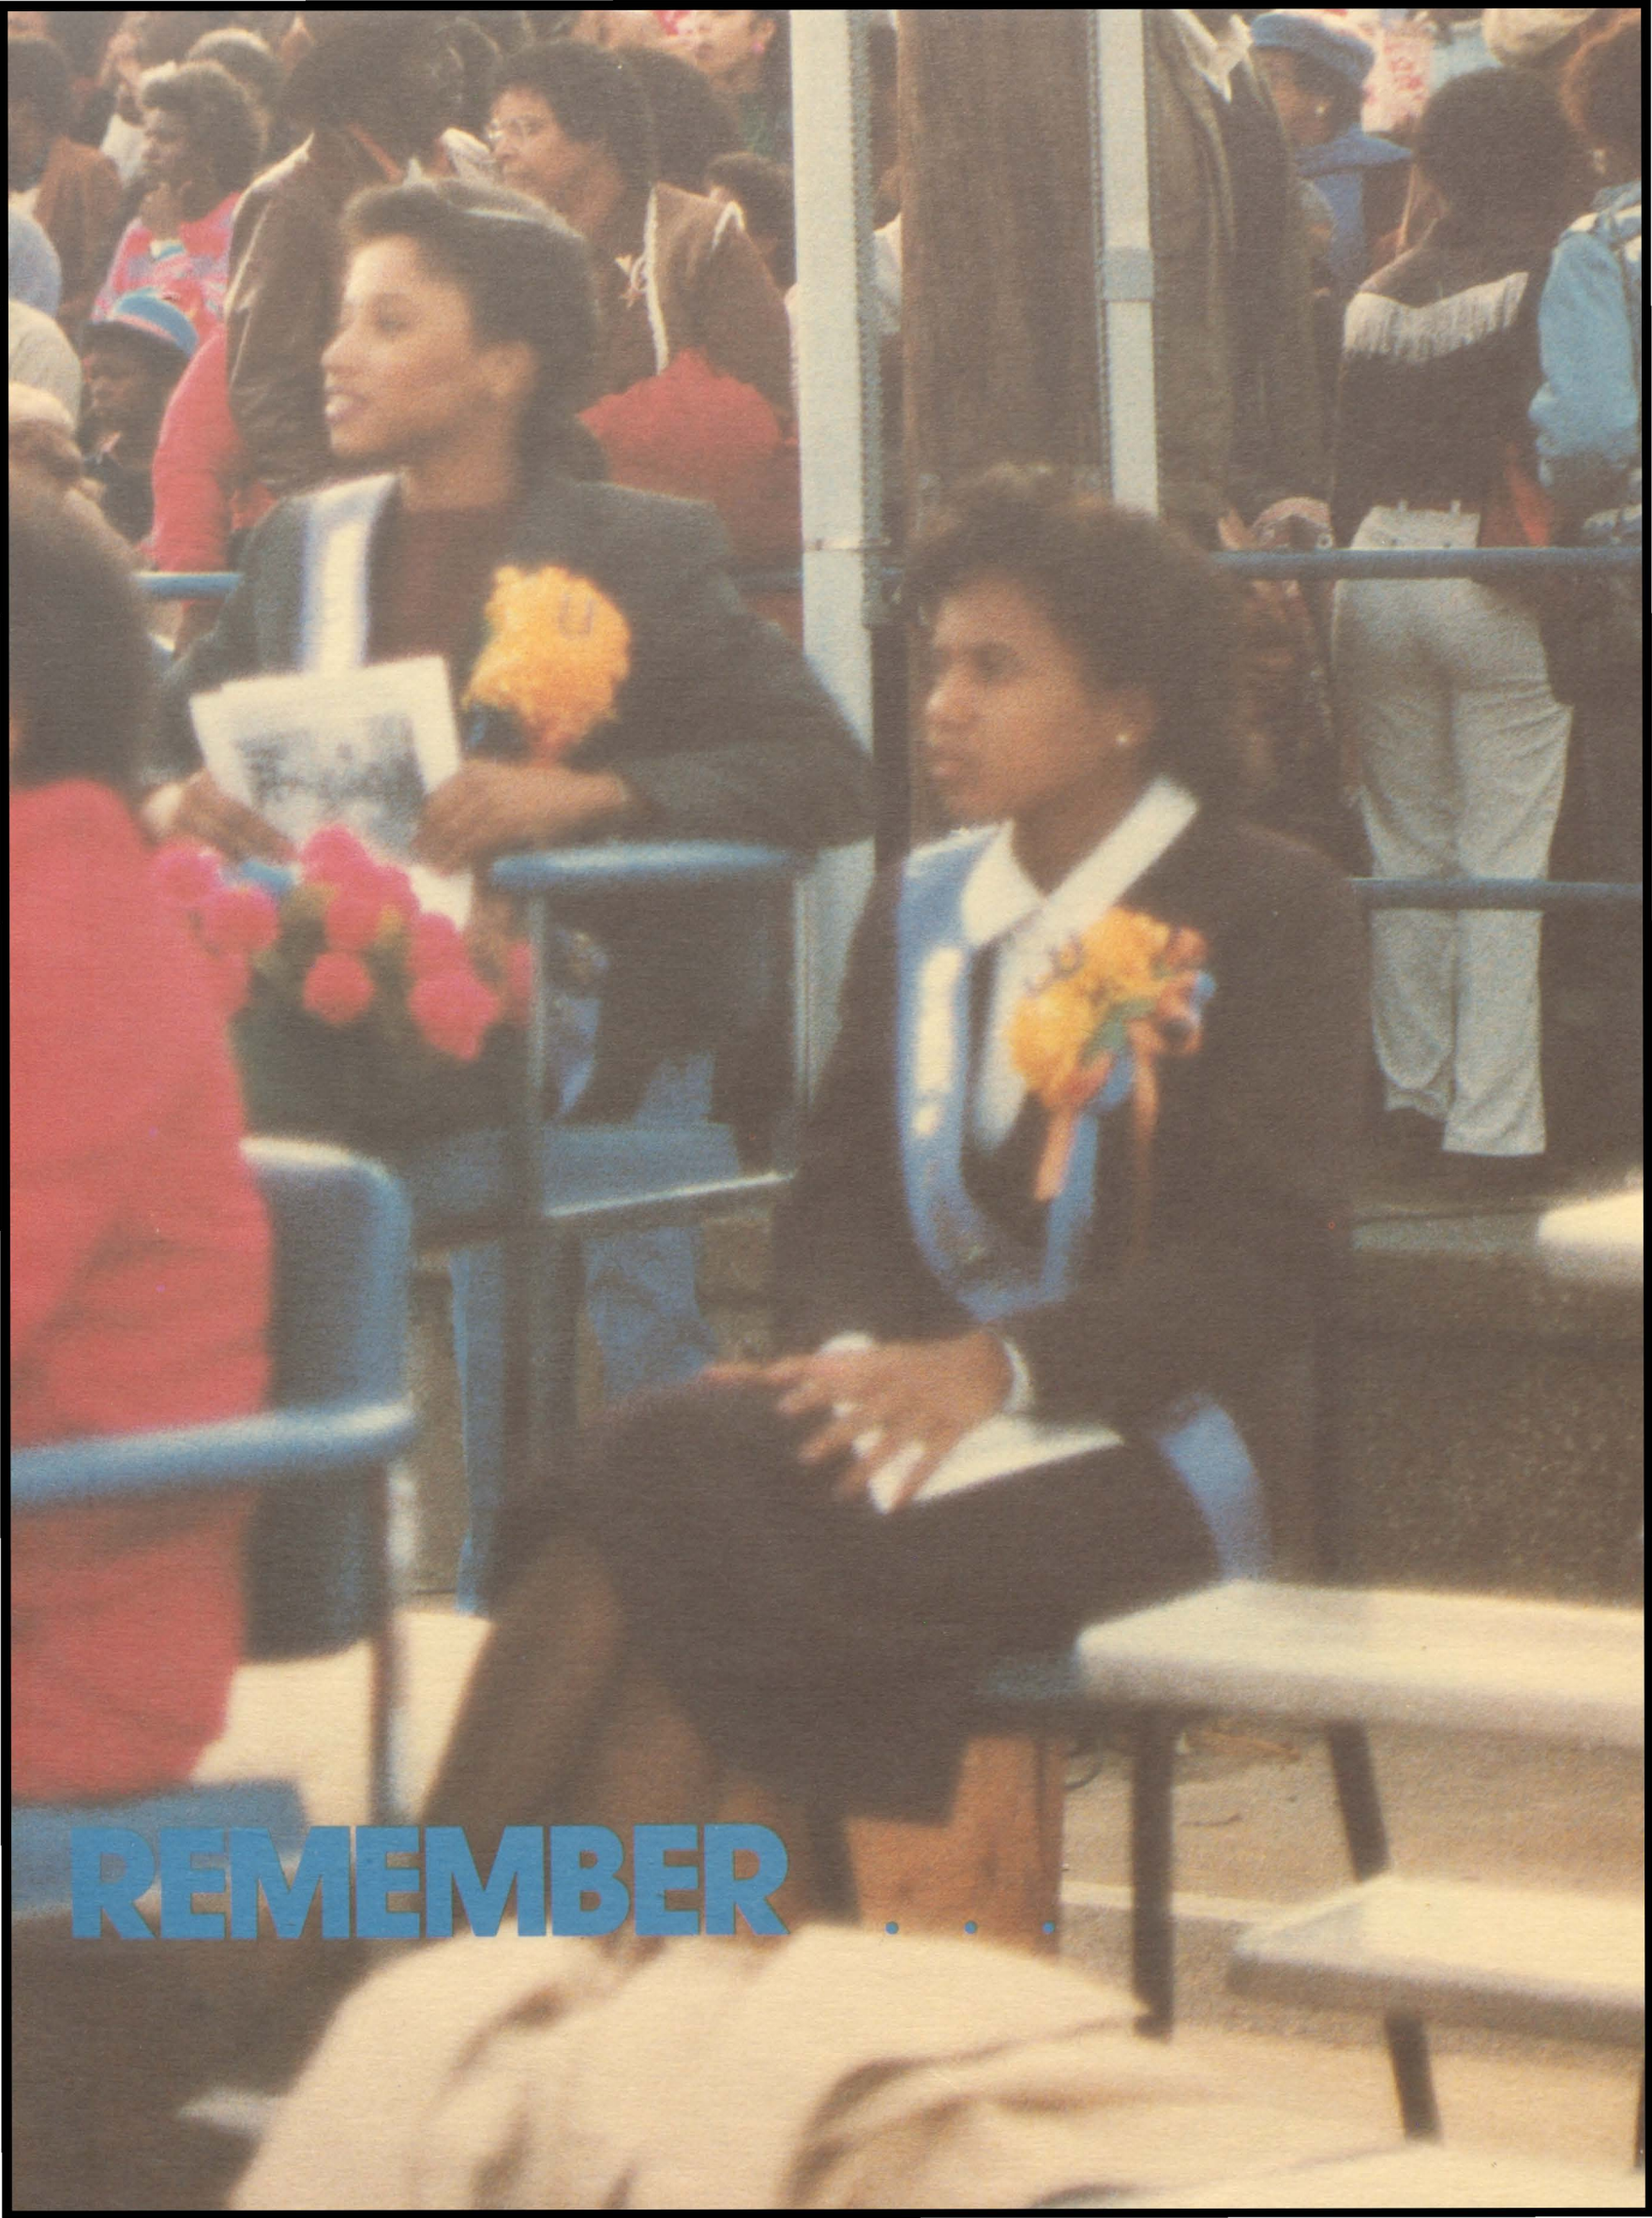

The day was perfect ... President Holloway beamed ... Speaker Butts challenged ... our choir sang ... Sanford Hall was rededicated ... our friends took a good look ... the verdict — “You’re doing fine Langston University!!!”

This year the Christmas Assembly involved many members of the faculty and staff in an effort to show the students' unity and involvement in a family atmosphere. They were featured in five scenes which depicted the different ways that we celebrate Christmas through office parties, going to church, and quiet family celebrations.

Brenda Seward Jones and Janet Hollier were co-ordinators of the program. The concert Choir concluded the program with Christmas Carols. ---Pamela Hill

GREEK LIFE

There's more to greek life than meets the eye. It's not only step shows and chanting, but it's also public service and cultural activities. Many fraternities and sororities are active in campus clean-ups, canned food drives for the poor and elderly, voter registration and scholarship fund-raisers. There are more than one-hundred and fifty greeks on Langston University's Campus who have entered the kingdom of greekdom. So, if unique is what you seek . . . Try Greek!

AFTER HOURS

Paul Carter and Steve Manning work while gaining Langston University Course Credit. They are serving in Co-operative Education Internships. Paul works for the F.A.A. in computer processing. His supervisors praise his work and expect to hire him when he completes his education. Steve works in the same program and does audit work for the I.R.S. He is impressed with how much his work helps him understand his course work during his attendance in regular course work.

Bonnie Thomas and Chris Flasch are recent graduates of Langston and while they are finished with their studies they still have warm memories of their life with us. Bonnie is a management auditor with the G.A.O. and Chris is a computer specialist.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., which was founded January 15, 1908, and is the first Black Greek letter sorority, had its beginning from a group of young women at Howard University under the inspiration of fellow student Ethel Hedgeman Lyle.

The international organization, which now has 95,000 members, continues to uphold the basic purposes of its pledge, which included encouraging high scholastic and ethical standards, promoting unity among college women, helping overcome problems women face, promoting an interest in college and being of service to all mankind.

Alpha Zeta Chapter of AKA, which was founded on Langston University campus in 1939, joins with 687 chapters worldwide in celebrating their Diamond Jubilee Anniversary this year.

LADIES IN ACTION

Crowder Receives All-America Honor

Sheryl Crowder, Langston Ladies forward from Muskogee, Okla., has been named to the National Association of Women's Sports Freshman All-America basketball team.

Crowder led the Ladies in scoring with a 15.6 average and in rebounding with 10.6 rebounds per game. She had single game highs for the season with 10 field goals, 11 of 11 from the free throw line and 15 rebounds.

"I was happy and overjoyed that Sheryl was chosen for the team, especially since this is only the second year the NAWS has had a freshman All-America team. This can't do anything but make Sheryl a better player and it might help our recruiting in the state," commented women's head coach B. O. Hills.

Hills continued, "I also feel good that even with our record (7-26) someone recognized a player for her performance and abilities and not the team's win-loss record."

Defense, Pitching Hurt Baseballers

By Richard Hughes

The Langston Lions baseball team received several setbacks over the past week as they lost six straight games. They dropped two games to Central State University 12-2 and 14-4, and lost a pair to Northeastern Oklahoma University 12-1 and 11-8, and Phillips University powered past the Lions 15-5 and 13-2.

The Lions have been hitting good and executing plays well, but their defense and pitching have been letting them down in crucial situations. Robert Kirtz, the LU assistant coach, stated, "As a team we have been coming around with the bat, but errors and pitching have hurt us. We have cut down on the errors, but the other teams have just out-hit us because our pitching hasn't been strong enough."

Over the six game sweep the Lions compiled a total of 22 runs on 33 hits in the losing causes. During the string of games the Lions' leading hitter Donnie McKeever, a sophomore from Detroit, Mich., paced the LU squad with six hits, two of which were homeruns and six rbi's.

The Lions centerfielder has been a constant threat to opponents for he carries an impressive .384 batting average. Along with McKeever, Carmell Green, the LU senior shortstop from Los Angeles, Calif., has continued to be a strong asset for the Lions. Kirtz says of Green, "He's a leader on the field. His take charge attitude helps to keep the team stable. Although we are losing, stability counts, because without stability you have nothing to build from."

Green is also a threat on the bases as he has had six hits on the week himself."

Relay Team Sets School Record at Texas Track Meet By Andre Johnson Staff Writer

The Langston men's track team broke the Langston 400 meter relay record for the second time this year and qualified for the NAIA Nationals to be held in Charleston, W. Va.

The four runners completed in two relays and the 100 meter race.

The qualifying time for the national meet was 41.64. The Lions lowered their school record of 41.8 that they had set earlier this year at the Eastern Relays in Wilburton, Okla.

Johnson qualified for the national meet in the 100 meters with a 10.44. The national qualifying time for that race is 10.64.

Bolton, the other sprinter who competed in the 100 meter race, missed the national qualifying time by .600 of a second.

LANGSTON AT CENTRAL STATE

By Marc A. Edwards

Langston University's Lions will have their work cut out for them Saturday when they travel to Edmond to take on defending national champion and currently NAIA No. 1-ranked Central State.

The Bronchos have a 7-0 record while the Lions stand at 4-5. The Lions are fresh off a 38-21 victory last Saturday over Evangel College. The Bronchos have had three open dates in the last four weeks. The last time they took the field was Oct. 29 when they defeated Cameron 33-22.

Lion quarterback Juan Johnson has completed 68 of 166 passes for 1,046 yards. Runningback Qlease Tyner, Langston's single-season rushing-record holder, has 1,153 yards through nine games.

The Bronchos are led by quarterback Randy Page, who has 65 completions out of 135 attempts for 1,073 yards. Tailback Joe Hayes has 982 yards on 124 carries. The defense is led by linebacker Ed Desherow, who has made 101 tackles.

"Langston has improved overall, both offensively and defensively," said Broncho Coach Gary Howard. "They have a couple of people doing real well for them. The quarterback (Johnson) is a proven product. And the tailback, Tyner, is a great rusher. Langston is a lot more consistent. We expect a tough game.

"They'll be ready to play us. They've won three of their last four and the one they lost to Cameron they lost by only one point (20-19). They have a chance to go 5-5. They have a lot to play for," Howard said.

"To stop Langston, we'll have to play the option well. They have outstanding speed and they've been throwing the ball well. They put a lot of pressure on a team. They've been scoring a lot of points, too."

"We look for Central state to pass 40 percent of the time and run the ball 60 percent, they're a very balanced ball club. If we can contain them we have a very good chance of winning," said Lion Head Coach Billie Hurte.

"They run a five man front. We have seen this type of defense before. We feel we will be able to pass on this," said Hurte.

"I don't think the layoff will have any effect whatsoever on them. They are well deserving of the number one ranking. When you have the quality of athletes they do, and maintain the top ranking, it tells you something of the caliber of their program. Coach Howard and his staff have done an outstanding job. I expect they will respond like true champions," said Hurte.

The Bronchos lead the series between the two teams 21-5-1. The last time the Lions came out on top was 1973, 27-6.

Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m. at Wantland Stadium in Edmond.

MOVIE LAUDS KING

By Bobby Flowers

LANGSTON—A movie of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., was filmed on the campus of Langston University this month.

The script for the movie was written by the director of the Miss Black Oklahoma Pageant, Clara Luper. Luper said Langston was chosen because of its similarity to Morehouse College in Atlanta, Ga., where King attended college.

Students gathered to watch the filming of the funeral of Dr. King outside I.W. Young Auditorium and Page Hall. Several were asked to participate. Their roles were to walk behind horses that pulled a flatbed wagon carrying King's casket.

The starring cast for the movie included students from John Marshall High School. Roles they filled included Mahalia Jackson, Rev. Ralph Abernathy, Coretta Scott King and Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

The Langston students who filled in as pallbearers were Lance West, Bobby Flowers, Jose Leonard and Denorvas Stevenson. They all agreed later that they felt it was an honor and a privilege to take part in the tribute to Dr. King.

The funeral scene was filmed from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. After lunch, a scene was filmed in room 112C Breaux Hall. The scene was of King and some of his fraternity brothers, of Alpha Phi Alpha. Members of the fraternity had been asked to donate various items to help decorate the room.

The movie was filmed by an Oklahoma University movie production class.

The movie of King is expected to be released between May 4 and May 7, according to Luper.

Upward Bound Puts On Thrilling Show

By Demetrius Lewis

O'Brien, Mtume and other familiar groups were portrayed when the Upward Bound students brought their talent show to the stage for their annual talent show.

The talent show kicked off when master of ceremonies Roque Bernardez, Langston University senior broadcast journalism major, introduced the Upward Bound Choir which was conducted by Joseph Brown, Assistant to the Vice President for Student Affairs.

Also appearing on the program was the Upward Bound Band which featured lead singer Tony Coursey, senior at Douglass High School in Oklahoma City. He kept the audience screaming when he sang two of O'Brien's latest hits, "Too Hot To Be Cool" and "Freaky."

The band was followed by the Jungle Panthers, who did a fast stepping, hi-stepping dance which was led by director and coordinator Morris "Robby" Robinson, Langston sophomore from Chicago, Ill.

Slowly the lights were lowered and George Ward, Mildred Stewart and Nancy Foreman, G.M.N. appeared with special guest Barry Tisdale, as they sang "Jesus Is With Us."

Two songs by the Upward Bounders were followed by another performing group.

On with the lights, let's rock the house-and that is just what the Rocketeers of Guthrie did with their fast moving feet to the pumping beat.

They were followed by a jazz presentation by Hardin "Butch" Benjamin who sang and played selections.

One of the final acts of the evening featured Deborah Jackson, Langston sophomore from Tulsa, who performed the top tune in the state, "Juicy Fruit" by the group Mtume.

The program was coordinated and conducted by Juanita Goff, counselor and social science instructor for Upward Bounders at Langston University, and directing the show was Robert Williams, junior accounting major at Langston from Phoenix, Ariz.

Students participating in the show were from Guthrie, Coyle, Douglass, Northwest Classen and Crescent High Schools and Langston University.

SECTION A—PAGE 11 THE BLACK CHRONICLE, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1983

E. Shaw Appointed to Elementary Education at Langston University

By LAVONNE FLOWERS
Special to the Chronicle

Dr. Ernestine Shaw of Oklahoma City has been appointed assistant professor and chairman of the elementary education department for Langston University.

During the academic year Dr. Shaw will be teaching elementary science, elementary language art, elementary reading and teaching method courses. She will also be working with first year entry teachers and student teachers.

She gained some of her experience at Garden Oaks

Public School in Oklahoma City where she taught at the fifth year center and also held a position as elementary teacher consultant in Oklahoma City Public School System for 12 years.

Dr. Shaw received a bachelor of science degree from Central State University in Edmond and a master's degree from Southeastern State College in Durant. She also received a doctorate degree from Oklahoma State University.

"I would like to offer a small piece of advice to potential students," she said, "It is important to be informed of all of the latest techniques and improvements in the educational field, but it is even more important to care about the student."

BLIND ALIYU LEARNS A LOT AT LANGSTON --- TAKES LIFE 'DAY-TO DAY'

Teaching Program Gets OK

By Quincey Moaning
Staff Writer

By Jeff Cooper

Loss of sight is not loss of everything," says an optimistic Marigrda Aliyu, a blind student who makes it "day-to-day" on the campus of Langston University.

"I am not a person who complains a lot about handicaps in life," Aliyu smiles, "because I have made it through elementary, high school and now college. I was blinded at the age of four following a case of measles."

The gritty student feels that a blind person is like anyone else when it comes to studying. A psychology major from Kaduna State in Nigeria, Aliyu's major requires a large amount of time for reading.

The Nigerian has a very unique way of studying. He brings along a small tape recorder to class and tapes lectures. He brings the recordings back to his room and then types out the main points on a braille typewriter.

Although he does not have lectures every day, he employs a student to read homework to him and he also types it on his braille typewriter to use for notes and as a study guide.

Aliyu is just getting adjusted to learning the campus. "It is becoming easier for me to get around," the sophomore says.

Aliyu chalked up an A in Humanities, "and he was among the few students who made A's," Dr. Joy Flasch, chairperson of Communication Department, adds.

However, he had problems with English although he passed the course.

Aliyu is a strong, confident individual who has a great desire to receive a college degree. He is being sponsored by the government of Nigeria.

"After graduation, I will return to my country and serve in government," he said. "I have five brothers working in that area." He is one of 11 children, seven brothers and three sisters.

The Nigerian is an inspiration to other students. "Here this guy can't see," one student commented, "and I'm not even taking advantage of my eyesight by spending time in the library."

"Students and instructors have been very helpful in my pursuit for a college degree," Aliyu says, "and I feel right at home here at Langston University."

The candidates met the student body on Wednesday, April 11, to present their various platforms. Valid identification will be necessary in order to vote.

TOMLIN ACCEPTS NOMINATION FOR ORGANIZATION PRESIDENT

By Reggie Holloway

LANGSTON—James B. Tomlin, an 18-year-old native of Boley and a sophomore pre-medical student at Langston University, has just been appointed national president of the Health Occupations Students of America (HOSA) at their annual national convention held in San Antonio, Texas. HOSA is a vocational organization of persons with an interest in health services. The seven-year-old organization has grown considerably from the six charter states, Oklahoma being one of them, and currently has a membership of over 30,000 people from 28 states throughout the nation.

According to Tomlin, the organization was originally open mainly to nursing students who received their training from vocational technical schools. The organization eventually branched out to include other health related technical fields.

Tomlin became involved in health-care by attending Gordon Cooper Area Vocational Tech School at Shawnee during his senior year in high school, (1981-82).

While attending school there, Tomlin was elected president of the local chapter of HOSA. Later he was elected president of the state organization for the 81-82 term.

Prior to his participation in HOSA, Tomlin served as president of the local FFA organization in Boley. Here, he learned leadership ability. Application along with dedication are the keys behind a successful leader, said Tomlin.

The outgoing president of HOSA, Kelly McLoud Skillings of Shawnee, OK, also attended Gordon Cooper Area Vo-Tech School.

As president of the national organization, Tomlin is required to serve as a member on the Health Occupation Education's Board of Directors. This group is the governing body for HOSA.

DEARING STARTS TEACHING DAYS

By Philip Muse

A senior English education major at Langston University will start his practice teaching March 14 at Coyle High School.

Brian Dearing will teach junior and senior English.

"Dr. E.B. Welch, the former advisor of the English Department at Langston influenced me to go into teaching," said Dearing.

Dearing graduated from Mumford High School of Detroit in 1978. He was a member of the Booster Club as well as being twice scholastically honored.

He is presently a President of the English Club, President of the Phi Psi Chapter, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, and a Motor City Association member.

His father James Dearing, is Head of Business Administration at Chadsey High School. Doris Dearing, his mother, is a special education teacher.

NON-BLK STUDENTS ENROLL

By Quincey Moaning

The non-black enrollment figures at Langston University show that there was a sizeable increase in the number of white students for the fall semester, according to the unitized student report submitted by John Smith, registrar.

The report showed that there are 233 International males, 38 international females, three Indian males, one Asian female, 35 white males, 60 white females, 415 black females and 425 black males. This is a total student count of 1,210 on the main campus.

The Tulsa Urban Center showed the greatest increase in white enrollment with 319 white males, 404 white females, three International males, 12 Indian males, 17 Indian females, 12 Asian males, two Asian females, one Hispanic male, four Hispanic females, 43 black males, and 64 black females.

The Oklahoma City Urban Center has 125 students in classes on that campus.

There are 23 international males, three international females, two white males, two white females, 41 black males and 54 black female students at the Oklahoma City Center.

Combined totals reflect that there are five Hispanics, 15 Asians, 32 Indians, 822 white students, and 1042 black students for a total enrollment of 2,216 students.

The main campus has 696 male students and 514 female students, while the Tulsa Urban Center has 390 males and 491 female students. The Oklahoma City Urban Center has 66 males and 59 female students.

CHURCH MEETS AT LANGSTON

By Valerie Kinnel

All A.M.E. Churches in the Oklahoma and Arkansas area will be having their 12th district conference, July 26-29, utilizing building on the campus of Langston University.

The purpose of the convention is to assess and evaluate the needs of those churches and schools in the A.M.E. 12th district.

At least forty churches have pre-registered 260 delegates for the conference. More than 900 are expected to participate in the 1983 conference.

The chief-coordinators for the program are Rev. and Mrs. T. D. Alexander of Little Rock, Arkansas and Rev. and Mrs. Roberts of Tulsa. Joseph Brown is the coordinator for Langston University.

Everyone is invited to attend the morning services in the I.W. Young auditorium at 11 p.m. each day and special services at 7:30 p.m. each evening.

Jazz Ensemble Cooks for Few

By Vernalyne Carter

The Jazz Ensemble performed before a small crowd recently in the I. W. Young Auditorium.

The group under the direction of Clyde Montgomery played before a group of businessmen who may sponsor the ensemble on a trip to Switzerland this summer to play at a jazz festival there.

The featured guest was Ernest Labrew, who plays both the alto and tenor saxophones.

Labrew, a native of Detroit, Mich., was formerly the band leader in the 328th Army band, the 9th Infantry Division in Vietnam and the 77th Army band of Fort Sill, Okla. Labrew performed two solos and played a stand-off with saxophonist Michael Wilkerson, a Denver, Colo., senior who is a member of the Jazz Ensemble.

Labrew commented that Wilkerson was good, and John Harris, the piano player was equally as good, and the two young men would go somewhere in the music industry.

Director Montgomery dedicated the show to the late

Maurine Francisco and the LU Concert Choir.

The honored businessman from Oklahoma City were Corlandus Lang, Earl Day and Morris McCray with special guest Sherry Chandler.

The Jazz Quartet played first, followed by the Choraleers, and then the Jazz Ensemble played. Harding "Butch" Benjamin commented that the show was "swinging" and that he'd love to have another one soon.

Members of the Jazz Quartet and Ensemble are Vearl Tolbert, percussions; John Harris, on piano; Joseph Evans, bass piano; Michael Wilkerson, saxophone; Troy Brown, George Scroggins, Ronald Bruce, Dennis Foster and Samuel Brackeen, trombone; Gary Brown, Darryl Baker, Omar O'Neal and Ernest Labrew, saxophone. Patrick Johnson and Billy Banks, bass guitar; and Stanley Gladney on trumpet. All the members of the Jazz Quartet were also members of the ensemble.

Clyde Montgomery commented that he was "pleased with the performance and that the audience seemed to have enjoyed the show.
