LION

"EXCEEDING AND SUCCEEDING"

"It must be borne in mind that the tragedy of life doesn't lie in not reaching your goal. The tragedy lies in having no goal to reach. It isn't a calamity to die with dreams unfulfilled, but it is a calamity not to dream. It is not a disaster to be unable to capture your ideal, but it is a disaster to have no ideal to capture. It is not a disgrace not to reach the stars, but it is a disgrace to have no stars to reach for. Not failure, but low aim is sin."

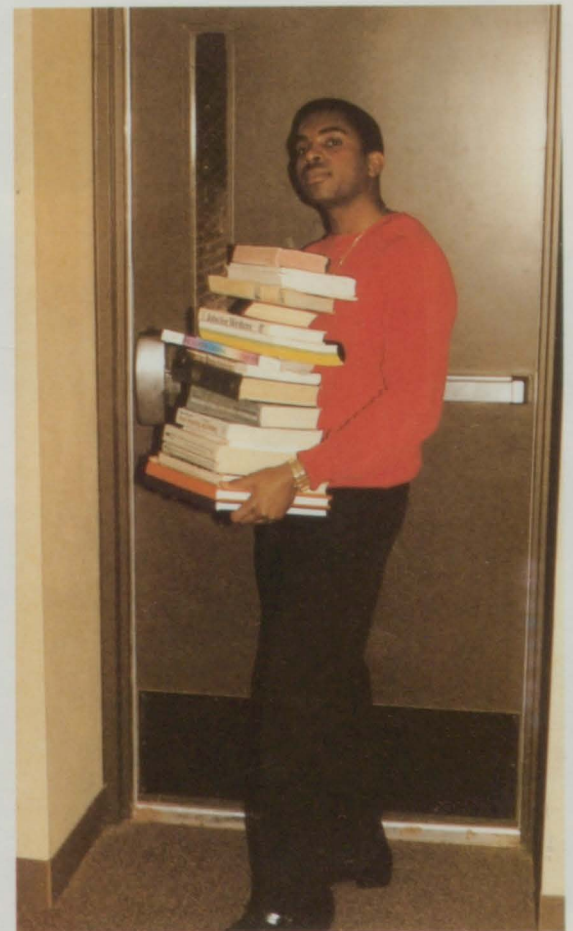

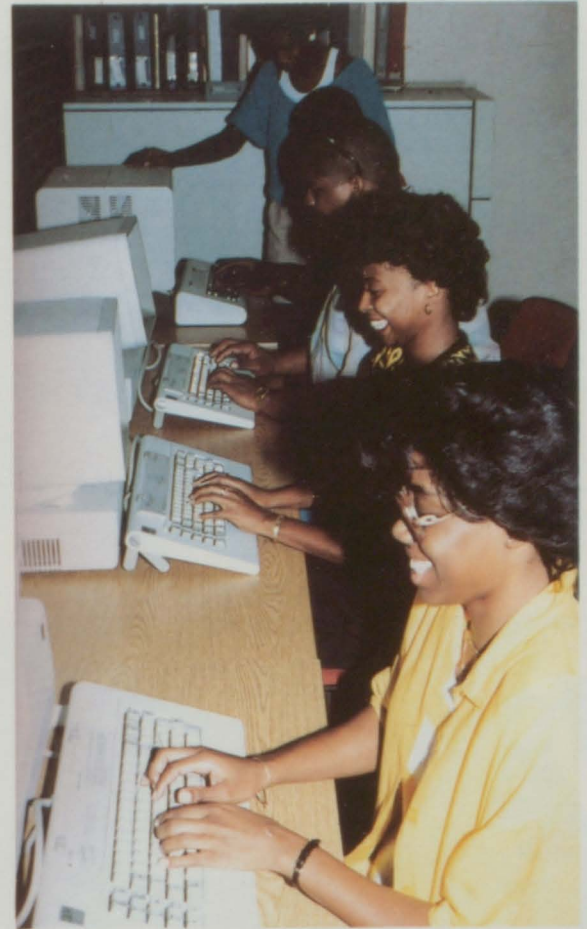

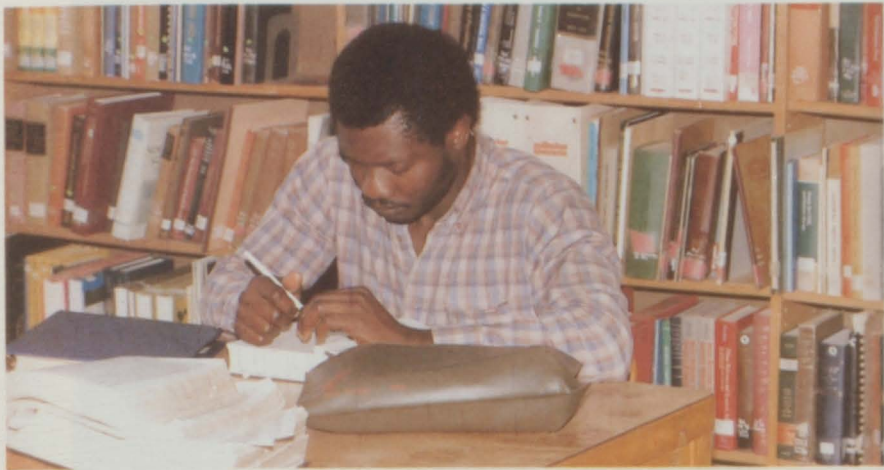

— Benjamin E. Mays

SUCCEEDING."

The university can boast that we have talent galore! At left, Joe Nash, Charles Jones, Keenan Foster and Robert Davis perform for one of our many activities.

Patrice Lewis and LaDonna Anderson, two proud Deltas.

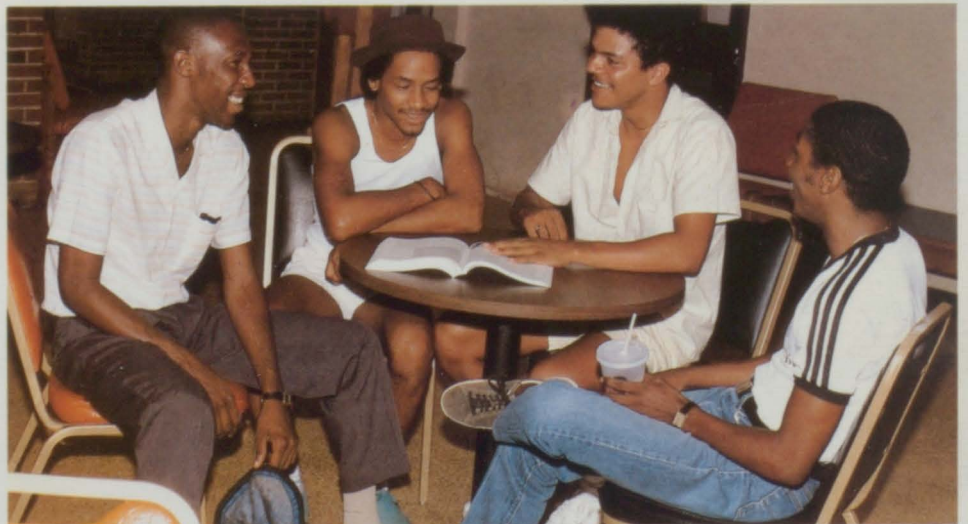

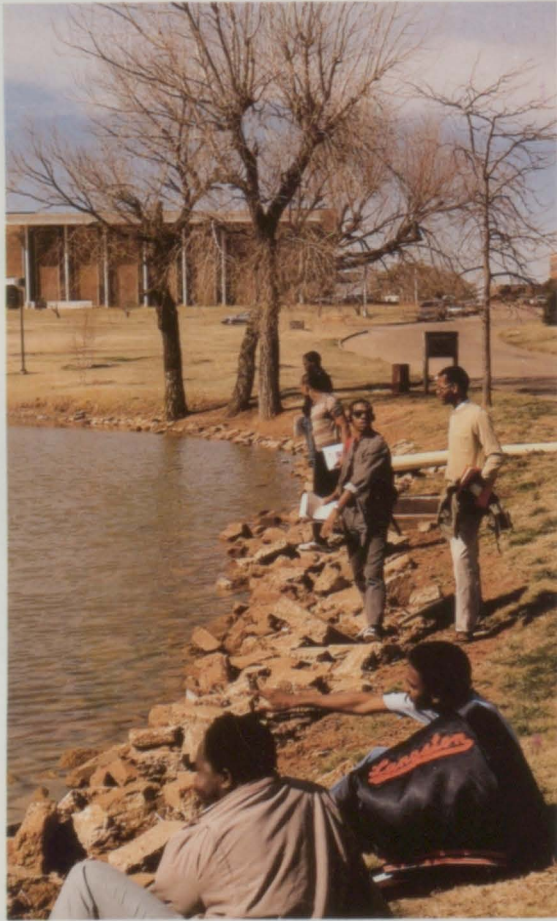

Mail Call!!!

Just posing "on a Sunday afternoon."

Time out for fun and relaxation!

Students get involved in all aspects of campus life: swimming, rapping together at the Kappa Pond, selling pop corn, tutoring and talent shows.

Lisa Anderson, Twyla Warrior, Georgan Isabel, Lisa Harrington perform "My Girl" on the Freshman Talent Show.

Lester LeSure, instructor of broadcast journalism, wanted his class in "Field Experience" to have the advantage of touring the State Capitol.

FORMAL OPENING AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF GOAT RESEARCH

Ribbon-Cutting Ceremony

Dr. Ocleris C. Simpson, Director of Research and Extension, addresses the group.

More than 600 people attended the opening of the $1.5 million facility, the largest in the United States. The facility was federally funded.

American Institute of Goat Research

Dr. Christopher Lu, director of the goat institute, stated that the Institute team is making efforts to advance the knowledge of goat production and to enhance the utilization of goat produce to serve mankind.

President Holloway stated that this is a new beginning that will have an economic impact for the state, national and international, and small farmers. He added that Langston University is the institution that will prepare students and researching efforts for the year 2000 with a purpose, plan and courage. Pictured with Dr. Holloway is Gene Wheatley, KWTU, Channel 9, Oklahoma City, who presided over the ceremony.

Hundreds of visitors passed through the lunch line at the ceremony.

Dr. Antoinette Fuhr Harrison, President of the National Alumni Association, could not resist caressing one of the "precious" little goats.

Glenn Gebhart could not pass up the opportunity to inform the audience of his "pet" project the small farm pond catfish program which he serves as director. This project is also under the Research and Extension Program.

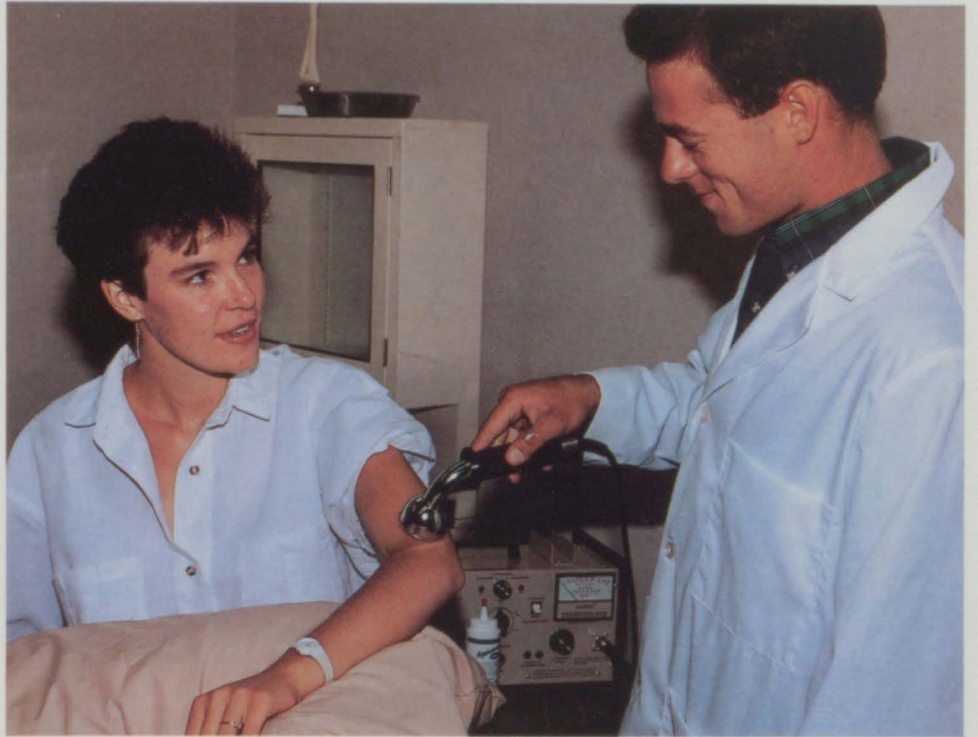

Ivory E. Moore, Jr., Program Specialist, Youth Development for Cooperative Extension, coordinated the 2nd annual Special Olympic Track and Field Meet held March 21, 1986. The meet was a total success which included the 50, 100, 200, 400 and 800 meter dash, mile run, softball throw, standing long jump, high jump, pentathlon and the 400 meter relay, wheelchair events and developmental sports. The Langston University Cooperative Extension Program provides educational programs to individuals regardless of race, color, national origin, sex, age, religion, handicap, or status as a veteran.

Scholastic Bowl 1986

Students from Millwood High School, Oklahoma City, were the winners of the President's Sweepstake Trophies. The trophies were presented by Burnell Smith, counselor for high school and college relations (pictured right with students). Mr. Smith was also coordinator of the annual event.

CHINESE DELEGATION VISITS

LU

Visitors from the Gansu Province of the People's Republic of China was an educational experience for the students of the University. Although the delegation spoke only Mandarin Chinese, they expressed, through an interpreter, their pleasure for the opportunity of touring the different campus facilities.

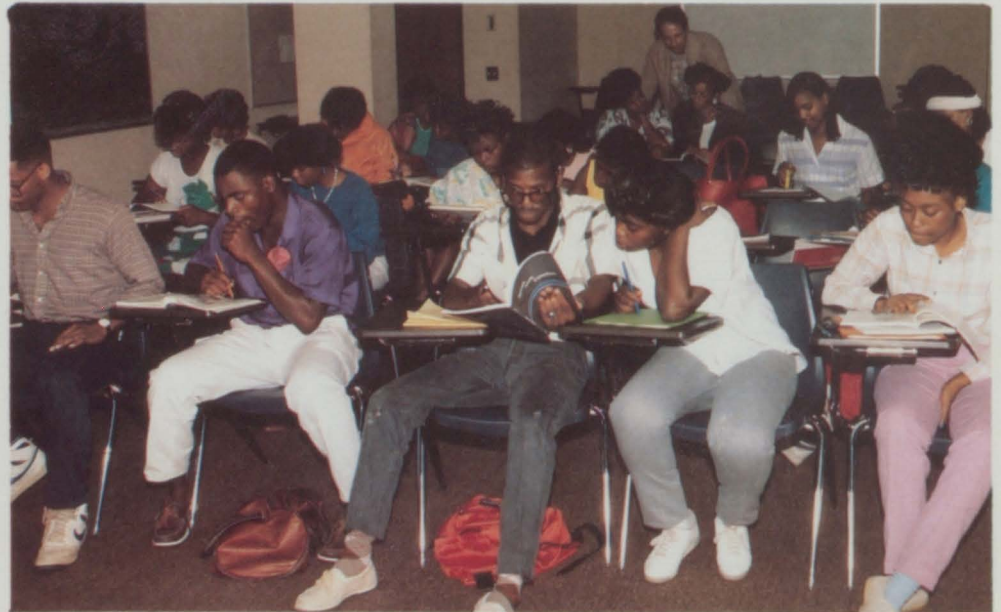

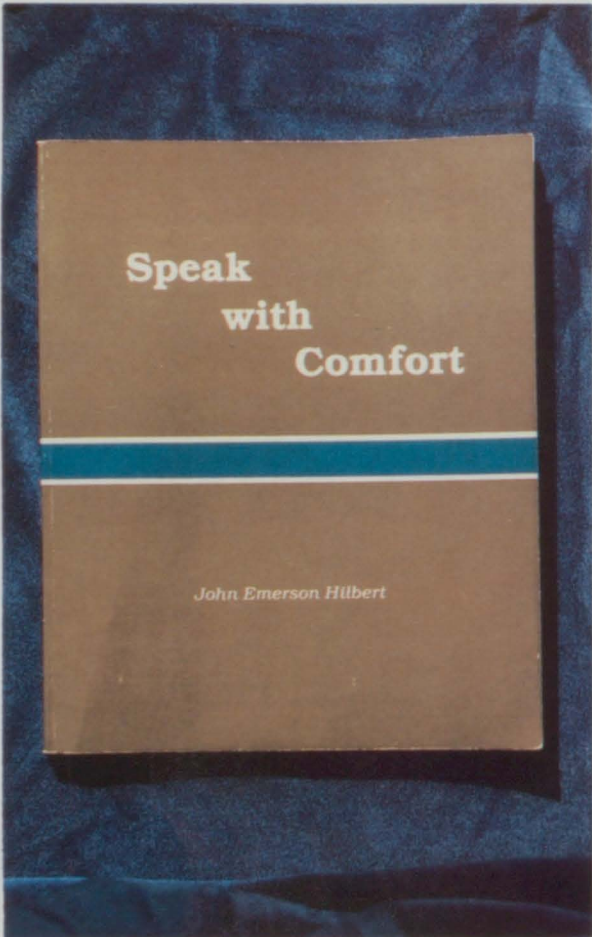

John E. Hilbert, assistant professor in the department of communication and English, writes textbook. "The competency-based approach of Speak With Comfort allows the text to deliver what it promises: comfort derived from confidence and interest, a result of the speaker's attainment of the basic oral communication competency. The sincerity and conviction with which the author presents his ideas, backed by the pedagogical soundness of his methods, make this text a valuable contribution to the discipline. The clarity and conciseness of Speak With Comfort make it a particularly attractive text for special needs students who respond best to "straight talk" and brevity in presentation."* Langston University is one of several colleges presently using Speak With Comfort as a textbook.

LANGSTON'S UPWARD BOUND PROGRAM

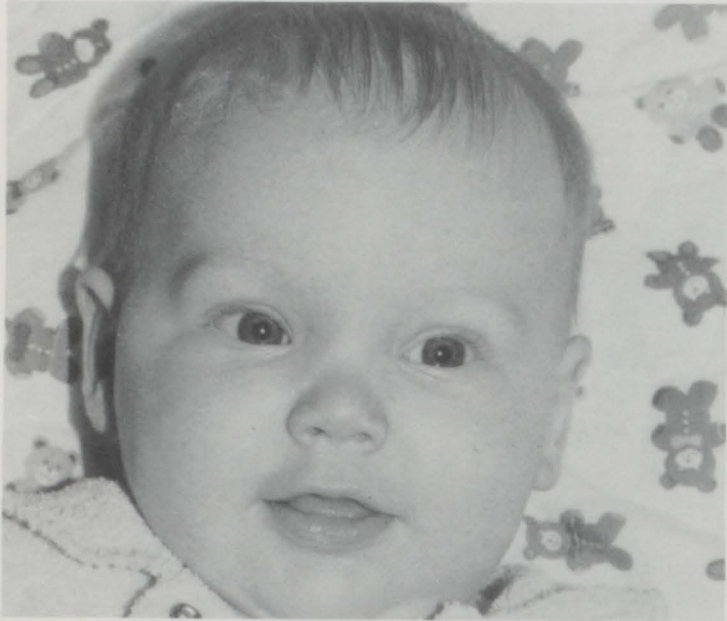

The Upward Bound Program is funded by the United States Department of Education and is designed to meet established criteria among which is to help high school students who meet the established criteria who have academic potential, but who have not had the preparation, motivation, or opportunity to realize or to demonstrate their talents. The program has an academic year component in which Langston University teachers, counselors, and peer tutors provide counseling and tutoring services to 10th, 11th, and 12th graders; and a six-week summer component in which the Upward Bounders live on campus and take high school courses and receive intensive tutoring and counseling. The "Bridge" students (Upward Bounders who have graduated from high school) take six hours of college courses during the summer.

Fifty-three students were involved in the various Upward Bound activities the summer of '86 under the leadership of program director Mae Dean Wyatt. Students involved in the program received intensive instructions in mathematics, science, reading and English.

However, Upward Bounders were not only involved in instructional programs but also participated in out-of-class activities such as picnics, video nights, swimming parties, field trips, and other cultural enrichment programs.

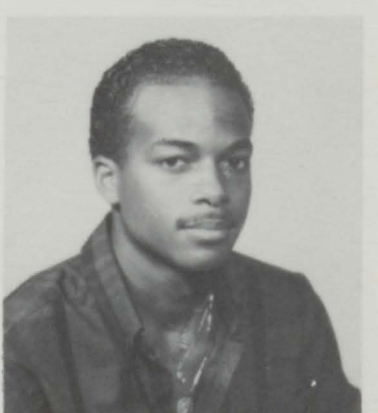

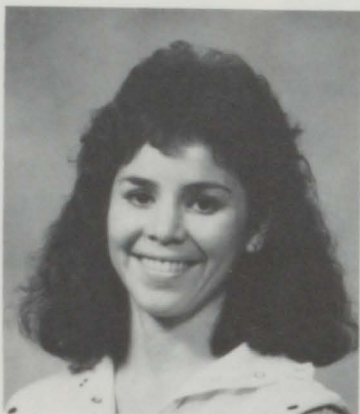

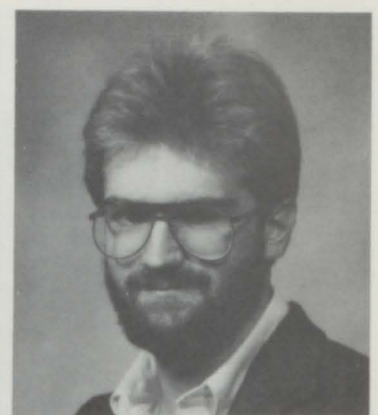

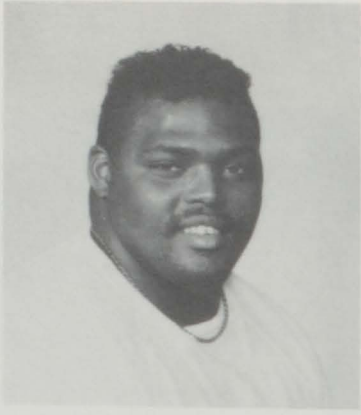

The students were on campus until July 18 for the regular Upward Bound students and the Bridge students who were enrolled in regular college classes remained until July 25.

President Ernest L. Holloway

DR. ERNEST L. HOLLOWAY is the fourteenth president of Langston University. Since his inauguration March 12, 1980, he has continued in his dedication to create an advanced learning environment.

President Holloway cares desperately about the individual student who cares desperately about making sense out of his own life. He is committed to seeing that the Langston University faculty and staff communicate the fact that one is constantly becoming, that no one arrives, and that the Langston experience for both student and faculty is being and becoming, not watching and waiting.

Dr. Holloway affirms, "Langston University should be at the cutting edge of current occurrences, a productive agent in extending the level and view of knowledge utilized in a society and an imaginative agent in man's search for the true, the beautiful and the good."

President Holloway is very proud of his three sons pictured left at the 1986 Spring Commencement. Ernest Holloway Jr., a 1981 broadcast journalism major is program director at KRPT Radio Station in Anadarko, Oklahoma; Reginald Holloway (the graduate) is a computer science major who is presently completing a management training course at the National Headquarters of the United Telephone System Corporation in Overlin, Kansas, after which, he will be placed with one of the branch offices; Norman Holloway is a sophomore at Florida A&M University, Tallahassee, majoring in architectural engineering. Norman attended Langston University his freshman year.

President Holloway, center, holds a conference with college presidents and educational officials from Zimbabwe during their recent visit to the campus. The educators discussed the possibility of linkages between institutions in Zimbabwe and Langston University.

PRESIDENT INDUCTED INTO AFRO-AMERICAN HALL OF FAME

Sarah Jane Bell, president of NTU Art Association, Inc., presents Dr. Holloway his medallion.

Pictured below are all of the inductees into the Hall of Fame: Thomas Allen; Dr. Charles N. Atkins; Mrs. Robert Alexander who accepted the honor for her husband the late Reverend Robert Alexander; Mrs. Clara Sheppard Luper; Dr. Holloway; and Dr. Gravelly Finley.

A check for $800 was presented to Dr. Holloway for the Development Foundation by Otis Marks. The money was raised from selling T-shirts and cushions to visitors during Homecoming celebration. Otis is a student at LU.

President Holloway accepts a check from Harold Hudson and Henry C. Whitlow as a donation to the Development Foundation. The two men represented the Alpha Theta Boule of Sigma Pi Phi Fraternity.

John E. Kirkpatrick presents President Holloway a check to be used for the Development Foundation Endowment Fund Drive.

Dean Leroy G. Moore, retired dean of academic affairs, continues to support Langston University where he "wore many many hats" during his forty-one year tenure.

The president of any institution carries a tremendous degree of responsibilities. President Holloway states that his load is lightened with the help of his staff. Mrs. Kelso and Mrs. Moore are not only efficient but also dependable.

Dr. Jean Bell Manning

VICE PRESIDENT
FOR ACADEMIC AFFAIRS
(Acting)

Former Director of Institutional Support Dr. Jean Bell Manning was appointed Acting Vice President of Academic Affairs for Langston University for the 1986-87 school year.

Dr. Manning said that in assuming her new responsibilities, she will give first priority to the three accreditations for the university that are coming up this school year. These include an evaluation for acceptance of the Nursing Department by both the National League of Nursing and the State Nursing Department and an evaluation by the North Central Association of Colleges and for reaccreditation of the university.

She added that we are working also on a five-year plan that will give us some long-range goals and objectives that will assure that Langston remains viable as part of the higher education system in the state. Also, "we are looking at strategies for student recruitment and retention and are giving attention to strengthening our academic program as well," Dr. Manning added.

The yearbook staff agrees with the caption in October 24th issue of the Langston Gazette: "She wears many hats—all of them well!"

"BETTER BY DEGREES"

Cathy Harris (center), special services counselor in charge of tutoring, was the winner of a $100 gift certificate in the Langston Marketing Campaign Theme Contest, with the slogan: "LU Better by Degrees." The theme will be used for recruitment and retention program and other advertising campaigns. Winners of the contest were chosen by Langston University's Public Relations Advisory Council. Pictured with Mrs. Harris are second place winner Alice Walls (left), business office manager, and Deborah Jenkins, financial aid veteran affairs coordinator, was third place winner.

"EMPLOYEE OF THE YEAR"

Gladys R. Johnson, Director of Public Relations, was chosen "Employee of the Year" by a special committee from the twelve employees of the month for the 1985-86 school year. Co-workers were unanimous in approving the selection.

During her 22 years at Langston, Ms. Johnson has become very familiar with many of the university's functions, having served as secretary to the director of public relations; administrative assistant to the director of Five College Curriculum Innovative Trust (FCCIT) and vice president of the university; administrative assistant to the registrar and director of the physical plant; administrative assistant to the business manager; administrative assistant to the vice president for fiscal affairs and coordinator for the department of communication. She was recently assigned to work with the Planning and Marketing Department.

Ms. Johnson is responsible for a number of different services related to promoting a positive image for the university. She serves as adviser to the university's yearbook, is a journalism instructor, proof reader, prepares advertisements, supervises the marquee, does photography, has served as news persons for KALU "Langston University Presents," prepares new releases, chairs committees, and handles any other duties that may be assigned by the president or requested by her co-workers.

She is a native of Ardmore, OK, and graduated from Douglass High School in 1945. Ms. Johnson and her 85 year-old mother, Mrs. Clara McGee who lives with her, are members (under watch care) of Mt. Bethel Baptist Church, Langston, and Sunrise Baptist Church, Ardmore.

LANGSTON UNIVERSITY'S INDELIBLE "ZIP"

By Leslie W. Pittman (Alpha Pi 1937)

C. Felton Gayles, "how sweet it is!"
To reminisce upon the years,
The years historical buildings stood,
When those who were said "that was good."

Emerging from the "Lions Den"
You molded lives of future men,
Your boys have played for you and gone,
Yet, the memory lingers on.

Seems the mind cannot undo,
Indelible "Zip" of "Langston, "U".
Times reflecting mirrors show
"Zip" is the Langston man to know

Aging men—maturity,
Etched in waxed security,
Cerebral domes, bald or white,
Remember "Zip"—a "guiding light."

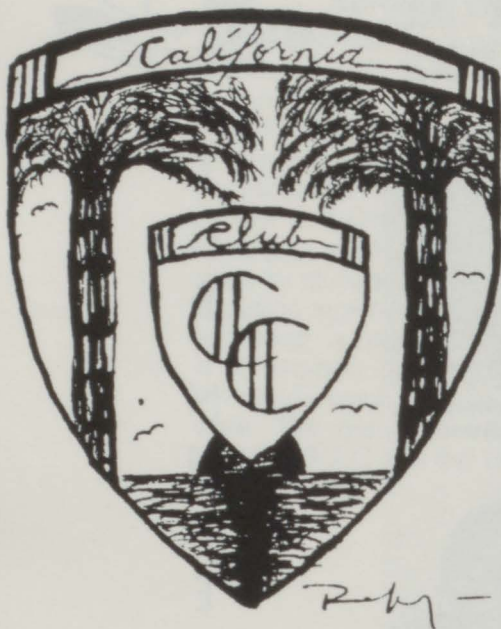

To them no rapture could excel,
And even now, no tongue can tell.
How athletes on the battle field
Like zipping gales were men of steel.

But for politics defiant,
"Zip" was Langston's "Bear Bryant,"
You could have been "a dapper Dan"
Oh, legendary Kappa man!

We sang with pride, Dear Langston
Thank you, "Zip" for you're the one.
O what candor in approach—
Indelible "Zip"! Incredible Coach!

Head Football Coach
Ron B. Aiken

This is Ron Aiken's first year as Langston University's Head Football Coach. Aiken, who comes to Langston from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York, brought with him six years of coaching experience on the college level and a strong educational foundation.

He is a native of Moncks Corner, South Carolina, graduated from Berkeley High School at age 17, where he played football and was an all-state shot putter. He continued his education at North Carolina A&T State University in Greensboro, North Carolina on a football scholarship and received the B.S. degree. Coach Aiken received his M.Ed. degree in History Education from Citadel College in 1982.

Athletic Director
Shelby K. Lauener

Shelby is in his third year as athletic director at Langston University. Receiving his Bachelor of Science degree from Central State University in 1970 he worked at Edmond High School for one year before moving to Perkins. During the next 11 years he coached football, basketball, and track for Perkins-Tryon on the junior high and high school levels. He also became principal of both Perkins elementary and middle schools. Shelby received his Masters of Science degree in Education from Oklahoma State University in 1979.

Anthony Watson was named by the District 9 Sports Information Directors Association to the District 9 "All-Academic Football Team." To be considered for the team a player must: 1) be in at least his second year at the school, 2) be a starter or important reserve, 3) have a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 or better on a 4.00 scale. Anthony is a junior biology major from San Antonio, Texas, and was quarterback and wide receiver for the Lions.

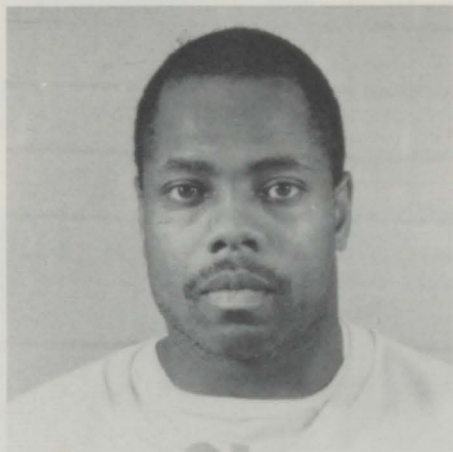

Mark Granger, a senior from Port Arthur, TX, was the only Lion chosen for the "1st Team Offense District 9 All-District Team."

The Lions running back Paul White, a junior from Grandfield, TX, made "2nd Team Offense District 9 All-District Team."

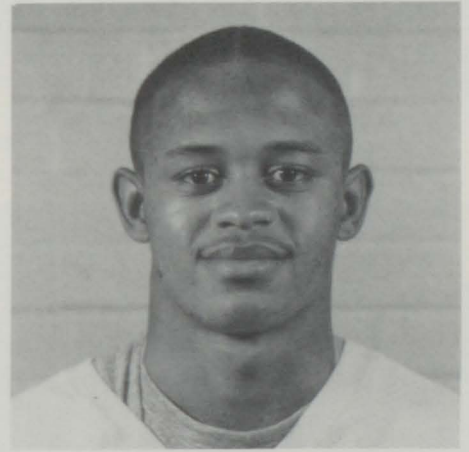

James Harding, Offensive Lineman from Guthrie, received honorable mention for a place on the District 9 All-District Team.

Three Lions were chosen for the "2nd Team Defense": Sidney Minor, defensive lineman from Vallejo, CA; Mike Andrews, a senior from Inglewood,

CA; and defensive back Alton Scott, a senior from San Antonio, TX.
