JUNE 24

"Saturday Evening Fun-Time" beginning at eight o'clock and lasting until eleven-thirty o'clock will be held in the William H. Hale Student Union for college students.

JUNE 25

Morning Meditations. Religious activities include Sunday School at nine and Morning Meditations at ten o'clock. The speaker for Morning Meditations will be the University Chaplain, Dr. Jno. W. Coleman. Dr. Coleman will speak on the subject "For the Life We Prize".

Upward Bound. "Fitness in the Space Age" is the topic for an informal meeting with Upward Bound students. The meeting will be held in the Student Union at 4 p. m.

Sunday Evening at the Movies. Title of this evening's movie is "How to Steal a Million" starring Audrey Hepburn, Peter O'Toole, and Hugh Griffith. This is comedy at its delightful best.

JUNE 27

Talent Spectacular. College and Upward Bound students have selected the best talent of each group for the presentation of an evening filled with sparkling entertainment. The show will begin at 8:30 p. m. in the I. W. Young Auditorium.

JUNE 28

Movie. "From cellar clubs in London . . . to the opening nights in Paris . . . to the wild way-out world of the continental swingers comes a story as different and exciting as the music of the man called Ray Charles." BLUES FOR LOVERS is the movie; 7 p. m. is the time; place is the I. W. Young Auditorium. The movie will star "Mr. Soul" himself, the incomparable Mr. Ray Charles.

JUNE 29

Watermelon Feast. At six o'clock in the afternoon, members of the Langston University family--college students, faculty, staff, and Upward Bound students--are invited to a watermelon feast to be held on the Tennis Court.

A recent release from the Office of Institutional Research of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges reports that state universities led the nation in contributing the largest number of volunteers to the Domestic Peace Corps (Vista).

Langston University's contribution to Vista is Cornelius Diggs, Jr., '66, who has just completed a year as a Vista volunteer and was a credit to himself and his Alma Mater. Diggs majored in social science at the University and is a member of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

There is still opportunity to contribute to the LANGSTON UNIVERSITY DEVELOPMENT FOUNDATION to make available scholarships and loans for worthy students. Langston University is presently $5,000.00 short of its goal to qualify for the balance of $33,333.00 Sloan Foundation Grant. If you have not done so, please make your contribution today. The deadline day is June 30, 1967. Our worthy students need your help!!!
